That's My Boy

Mrs. W. W. W.

Every day now we hear of this boy and that boy leaving for military training. We meet the boy on the street and greet him with the familiar expression, "I heard you are leaving for camp tomorrow." He will very likely dig his hands into his pocket, grin excitedly and answer "That's right, I'm going into aviation or to the Navy—or I am to leave with the 'National Guard' as the case may be.

As you look into that boy's face, you will wonder a little why you haven't realized before how hand some and fine he is. You do realize, all of a sudden, that you love this home town boy, so soon to leave us. You know in your heart that wherever he is your admiration, your thoughts and prayers for his safety, will follow him. When your own boy has his locker assigned to him at National Guard Headquarters, and you see him standing erect and stern in his soldier's uniform, the tears flow out of the present scene and he is again your little boy, who when all too young and tender climbed a wild grape vine and had to be brought safely to the ground again in his dad's strong arms — you see him, a bare foot boy standing in the hot summer sunshine, holding his cap carefully, because in it are dozens of crawling crawfish which he assures you "are much better to eat than any other kind of fishes." You see your little son astride his pony, "Prince Albert" riding at such a clip that your heart misses a beat and in more serious moments, you see him administering to one of the colored men on the plantation who has a badly cut foot. You see the clear understanding and a boy's appreciation of more serious things in life when he said, manfully, "Mother, I will be confirmed when the Bishop comes if you promise not to cry in church, and the picture of him in his boy scout outfit, with Katie his bird dog, brings you back to this "bigger" boy in his soldier's clothes.

Yes, they are our boys, today. They are leaving us to train to be soldiers tomorrow. Their boyhood chapter is closing, not gently and naturally, and with the assurance that the next chapter will be a natural event, but one which may mean years of unrest, of unsettled lives, and mothers will view parades and look at group pictures and murmur "That's my boy."

America . . . Love It Or Leave It

If you do not like it here, why don't you leave? Why don't you go wherever you think things are better, and go in a hurry? Why do you stick around here, where things are not the way you want them?

There is only one answer to these questions. There are traitors within, and enemies just without, who hope to change us—who stay here to destroy our American form of government.

Fortunately, only a comparatively few of the millions sheltered by the American flag are in this category—but it is a dangerous few.

Among them are some who are not citizens, and whose secret purpose is to undermine and destroy us. Also among them are some who wear the badge of American citizenship—some whose hats are here while their hearts are actually somewhere else. They, too, are working against us.

These enemies are doubly dangerous because they do not openly admit the hidden war they are waging on America, its ideals and its institutions. They pretend to be friends—but they practice treason.

There is room here for just one kind of men—one kind only—men who live for America as well as in it . . . and love it!

Here in America we believe in the American way of living—in American institutions and in American ideals. We intend to adhere to them, but we have no thought or wish to impose them on the peoples of other nations. Nor should we permit the philosophies of other nations to be forced upon us.

We intend to go along in the American way—along the road of true Liberty and Freedom—as it was laid out for us by our forefathers. We have gone far, and we shall go farther in the good American way. Calmly but with fixed determination. And no one shall stop us. We may as well admit that we have been lulled by the sense of security that has always been ours.

We must admit that we have not been alertly apprehensive of the blessings that are ours under the American form of government. We must admit that we have permitted advocates of foreign "isms" to enter unchallenged and attack the very things that are most dear to us. But we are through with that. We are awake now and in every way will resist and resist these invaders—these enemies of our democracy.

There can be no doubt that a hidden war is in progress here in America today—a war against our Liberty and Freedom.

Be alert and vigilant! Arm yourself with the facts about your America. Think again of the rights and privileges, of the blessings and opportunities that are yours under the American flag. Compare them with what you wouldn't have elsewhere.

Defend what our forefathers conceived, fought for and won for us. Do it by keeping business moving. Do it by thinking—and talking—talking America! That's the way to be strong, the way to stop this hidden war and turn the invader back.

This is our America. Love It or Leave It!!
—ad in The Commercial Appeal.

Me and the GCW.

It Requires More Than Merely 'Wanting'

It seems that practically all of the retail merchants of this county, particularly those who sell foods, are keen to get the Food Stamp Plan started in this county. They WANT it badly. As far, however, as we have been able to observe, not over a handful of these merchants are doing a God's blessed thing to get the plan established here, beyond WANTING it, and signing a petition.

WANTING the plan, and not working to get it, will merely leave this community as it is, that is with the old plan of commodity distribution.

Let anyone think that we are writing so much about it because it will help us personally and directly, let us say here that a newspaper cannot accept green stamps to pay on subscriptions, to apply on accounts due it, or for printing. Fortunately, we are not yet on relief and therefore cannot obtain them by gift. Fortunately, neither Mr. Horn nor Mr. Greenfield are on relief. Therefore the stamp plan will not help them directly.

We have tried to publicize the plan, for we believe that it is a good thing for the community, that the stamp plan is a better plan of distribution than the present plan, and that, if $40,000 in cash money is turned loose here every month, we will get some of it indirectly. If, however, this newspaper and only a handful of others are the only ones interested in the establishment of this plan, and if no one except the handful are willing to help those who are working for it, we are ready to abandon the plan without further fuss and feathers, bury it, inter it, put it to sleep, and never exhumate it.

The supervisors from the country beats are apathetic about the plan, and for the good reason that, beyond reading about it in the GCW, they know little about it. Their constituents have not felt it necessary to broach the subject to them, and, therefore, we do not blame the country supervisors. They naturally seek to reflect the wishes of their own constituents. If their constituents are apathetic, then the supervisors cannot be expected to rise up and sing hosannah about it.

If the merchants at Holcomb and Oxberry want this plan, and, if the direct relief clients and the work relief clients of Beat Five want the plan, and, if they will tell Jim Elliott that they want it, we know that Jim Elliott is keen enough to help put it across.

If the merchants at Graysport and Providence and Gore Springs and other parts of Beat Two believe they would benefit materially, and if those on relief, either direct or work relief, in Beat Two prefer getting stamps to dragging to town and drawing grape fruit and dried milk, and, if they tell George Chamberlain about their wishes, we will bet two bits that THEY could convince George that the "thing" was worthwhile, and George would vote for it.

The same things, the same arguments and the same conclusions apply to Dave Williams in Beat Three and Burns Strider in Beat Four.

We folks here in Grenada can beg, bluster and bluff until our faces are red and until shortness of breath renders us speechless, and we will have but little more effect upon Messrs. Chamberlain, Williams, Strider and Elliot, than a dirt dober would have in damming up Red Grass Creek. Those gentlemen are responsible primarily to the people who sent them to office. Those gentlemen wish to do what THEIR own people approve of. Until the rural merchants and the rural recipients of relief see the value of the Stamp Plan of commodity distribution over the present "catch as catch can" plan of hit and miss distribution, and until these rural people make known their wishes to their own representatives, we will gamble that this county will never obligate itself to furnish $6,000 for a revolving fund and assume the responsibility of meeting a monthly pay roll of at least $400.

Mr. L. P. Horton, the supervisor who represents this beat on the board, makes no secret of his approval of this plan. Prich is "all set." The next move in this game, as we see it, is to get the country people to contact their own supervisors, that is, of course, if the country people are interested in establishing the plan here.

Unless more interest is manifested by those who should be MOST interested, we propose to "drop" the subject, for we can find plenty of other things to spill our "sweetness" upon, besides the "desert air" of commodities. If the direct beneficiaries of the plan—the retail food merchants and the relief clients—are unwilling to pitch the ball some, we are going to return the ball to the umpire.

Change Its Name

We fully agree with the old lady who suggests that Armistice Day, having lost its significance, have its name changed to Preparedness Day, or some other "day."

In the midst of what likely will become the greatest and most costly war in human history, we are pausing to observe the anniversary of the occasion of hostilities of a lesser war.

To us of the writer's generation, November 11, 1918 was the day when we were ordered to cease firing. November 11, 1940, only a generation from that Armistice Day, we of the writer's generation are seeing our sons shouldering arms and leaving for an adventure that may be more fantastic and more horrible than the adventure that we experienced.

Armistice Day, after all, means little now that hostilities on a greater scale than ever have started. The day of cessation of hostilities to us Americans can mean little now that we are embarked upon a more gigantic adventure.

Inasmuch as Armistice Day means so little, it might be a good idea, as the old lady suggests, to abandon it. People of this country stopped celebrating the birthday of the King of England after this nation became independent. A man living with his second wife does not have a family holiday upon the anniversary of his first marriage. Why, then, celebrate an Armistice that now means nothing?

Holidays, like other things, become obsolete. We believe Armistice Day has become obsolete and should be done away with.

If the Italians desire to save Rome from destruction, they should quit bombing London.

Small Town Trading Centers

Indiana University has worked out a nine-point program for small towns and cities interested in becoming and remaining good trading centers:

First, maintain a good movie house. Second in importance, good eating places.

Other factors in the order of their importance are: That adequate parking facilities be provided—not by large parking areas, but by keeping the traffic moving by limited parking time.

Displays of seasonable goods in show windows; Maintenance of a good newspaper, with emphasis on local news;

Good lights for streets and stores; Cleanliness (including liberal use of paint, and colors);

Maintenance of a reasonable stock of merchandise in a price and quality range suitable to the community.

And above all, for merchants to keep any promise made to a customer.

Kosciusko qualifies on all of the points with the exception of parking facilities. And possibly on cleanliness. Our town could be kept cleaner with a little cooperation.

Parking is a real headache. People here have not yet realized that they all cannot park on the square, and they are careless about observing ordinary traffic rules. They just will not park right even if parking space is available.

HOLCOMB NEWS

(Last week's news)

Those who attended the Girls Reserve conference that was held in Europa last week-end were: Misses Bessie Hester McCafferty and Helen McKinnon, Mrs. Betty Addye Atkinson and two of the high school girls, Margaret Ann Scott and Martha E. Goodson. Every one reported a fine conference and a very enjoyable one. Our community feels highly honored having Miss Margaret Ann Scott elected secretary of this district.

On last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the small child, 14 months of age, of Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Martin was buried out at Sparta cemetery. The funeral services were held at Holcomb Church, Rev. A. W. Bailey conducting the services.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brewer from Memphis, visited Mrs. Edd Gee recently.

Mr. A. W. Jackson's father visited him a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Collins and Mrs. Lee Ward from Memphis, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. A. Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Rice; Mrs. Lee Ward remained for several days' visit.

Miss Mary Ames Ray, who is working in Greenwood spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laney Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McMahon and Misses Helen McKinnon and Elizabeth Perkins attended the Navy Band Concert in Greenwood Tuesday night.

Rev. A. W. Bailey left Wednesday afternoon for the Annual Conference in Columbus, which opened Wednesday night. He was accompanied by the delegate from this circuit, Mrs. Warren Holman. Mrs. J. A. Rice also went with them. They will be entertained at a friends home in Columbus.

On last Tuesday night the 5th Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church was held at the parsonage. Those from the various churches brought a "dish of food." The dining room was converted into a banquet room with three long tables across all decorated in harvest colors, with the centerpiece of the table being a large pumpkin surrounded by autumn leaves with fruits on top for one table a bowl of yellow and orange chrysanthemums, another and an old fashioned cake stand with fruits of all kind, for the other, green and red tapers were used in decorations.

Mr. Wade Rice assisted Mrs. Bailey in making ready for this occasion that is enjoyed annually by the stewards of this circuit and other members of the churches. The churches had a good report. They expect to send their pastor to conference with everything in full.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hobson are visiting in Louisiana at this writing.

Mrs. Melnot Hill and family had the pleasure of having for their Sunday guests, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winter Woods and son, Warren Woods and wife and baby from Cadretta, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Curle and daughter, Maggie Ree from Belzoni, and Mrs. Lula Doolittle from Cadretta.

Mrs. S. J. Curle is not so well a mother, is at home from a visit with soon, be much improved.

Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Edd Holcomb's mother, is at home from a visit with her children at Newton, Wayside and in Louisiana.

Mr. Tim Campbell returned to camp at New Augusta, Miss. last Saturday.

The problem might be solved by limiting parking time in the business section.—The Kosciusko Star Herald.

Grenada, too, is painfully deficient in parking space for the cars of visitors. Street lighting about the square is all that is to be desired, but street lighting in Grenada generally is inadequate.

Where Else But In America

Where else but in America can these be yours: equality for every person . . . every race . . . every creed; guaranteed security of person and property; individual freedom and full opportunity . . . limited only by your own ability and energy; the right to help choose your own government; free speech . . . a free press . . . freedom of assembly . . . and trial by jury?

Basically That is America. Love It . . . or Leave It.

—The Commercial Appeal.

Anyway, the Republicans got more votes in Grenada county than the Socialists got.

No greater observance of Armistice Day was ever experienced in Grenada than the observance on Monday of this week. The Grenada Post of the American Legion is to be commended for putting over the best celebration yet.

Mrs. Addie Dubard is still confined to her bed most of the time. She is able to sit up a little at her mealtime.

Mr. E. R. Ates, from Jackson, spent several days with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Turner, recently.

Mrs. Clyde Grey visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Elliott last week. Mrs. Ruby May Morgan spent the week-end with friends in Greenwood. The Women's Society of Christian Service met in Mrs. Dot Hayden's home last Monday at 3 o'clock. The fifth study on the migrant was taught by Mrs. L. T. Hayden. It was very interesting. The last lesson in this study will be taught by Mrs. Dot Hayden next Monday. Every member who can please attend. The following were present last Monday: Mesdames J. A. Rice, Howard Hall, L. T. Hayden, R.

A. McRee, Edd Gee, E. D. Holcomb, Dotson Hayden, A. W. Bailey, and one guest, Mrs. Lell from Memphis.

Mrs. Emma Baker and grand son, Haven Barron, from Greenwood spent the week-end in Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Bailey's home.

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Bailey attended a church meeting in Water Valley last Wednesday.

Our ball teams went to the Valley School and played the teams there last Friday. The Holcomb boys were winners and the Valley boys won.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner, Lola Bell and Roscoe, and Mr. Turner's brother and family from Carrollton, visited Mrs. M. M. Turner in Oxford Sunday.

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

To: Lydy Perry, Chicago, Illinois, Rudolph Stinson, Shreveport, La. Henry Nolan, address unknown, Vencie Williams, address unknown, Percy Chamberlain, address unknown.

You are summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of Grenada County in said state on the second Monday of December, A. D. 1940, to defend the suit No. 5311 in said court of Jessie Perry, Administratrix of the estate

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

The heavy falling rain bluffed me and Hurd Horton and Ed Underwood from going to attend the torch light procession put on by the indomitable Colonel Henry Kahn at Duck Hill Saturday night, but we understand that it did not bluff Col. Henry, who had his parade and speaking in spite of the heavy rain.

Rebecca is back at Rose Cafe. They have their old clerk back.

Much obliged to Alderman Horn for a nice ride about the City Beautiful Sunday when both of us should have been at preaching.

Understand there is not a chicken left in Lowndes county, after the Methodist Conference last week.

Hitler is still seeking to divert his people's attention from his own gigantic failure to invade England, this time by trumping up a big conference with the Russian Foreign minister, whatever his name is. We are due for a lot of this kind of tactics.

Bring some of your printing orders to the same place that you bring your free propaganda. That's fair.

One by one, the young men are leaving for this and that point to enter the military service, and this is reminding of the days of 1917, and 1918.

People of my generation not only participated in war and saw their husbands, brothers and sweethearts go off to war, but now live to see their sons return to renew the fight to save the world for democracy.

Here Mr. Top, I guess you that I was dead. I ain't but I have quit poller ticks for there ain't nuthin' in 'em.

Was just reading the article of Brother Neblett, of Shelby, who is a candidate for the legislature from Bolivar county. I did not read all of it, but read enough of it to convince me that, with his qualifications, he should be running for governor, or president. He certainly gives himself a good name.

See also where C. L. Langford has bought The Bolivar Commercial from Richard E. Davis. Cleveland, poor city, has only three weekly newspapers. How all of them continue to exist, nobody knows. Welcome, Brother Langford, and farewell, Brother Davis.

See also where the Banner County News has suspended publication in Canton. Charlie Harris, with his old established Herald now continues unopposed. As the proprietor of the Banner County News found out, and we can verify it, it is more than a notion starting a new newspaper in a field where an old established newspaper has dominated the field.

Our cross word puzzle pupil visited in Memphis one day last week.

It is raining outside, but we decided to let it rain as nothing can be done about it.

Our subscription list continues to grow. The G.W. has enjoyed a steady, healthy growth since it started publication in August, 1937, but it has never attained that enviable point where it can publicly announce that it goes in to 80 percent of the homes of the county.

Suggestion to WGRM: please play a sad, doleful tune and dedicate it to Sam Anderson, of Greenville.

Brother Todd, serving his first time as election officer, acquitted himself with glory the other day.

About one hundred of us stayed in Grenada last Friday night, while the rest of the people of Grenada went to Kosciusko to see the Bulldogs go down in their second defeat in three years. Some of them were talking about "killing the empire."

Since Grenada now has plenty of traffic lights, may we humbly suggest that we have better street lights thus opening up some of the dark places in life.

It is none too early to begin planning for Christmas lighting of the city, if we are to light up this year. Let's not wait until a week before time to begin as we did last year.

Jim Cey gave me a ripe pear the other night, believe it or not.

"They say" our suburban flicker sellers have put in ample stocks for the Thanksgiving and Christmas business. Prohibition in Mississippi is a hollow mockery, and something should be done to legalize the traffic which seems impossible to control.

Several at Kirkman must have got mixed up in voting, for there were some Socialist votes there. Maybe those voters did not like any of the rest of them, and, in desperation, "went Socialist."

Guess it is about time for another crop of folks to pay their subscriptions. Please look at the date by your name. This date indicates the expiration date of your paper. "11-40" means your subscription was out this month; "9-40" indicates you were "out" in August, etc. It is an easy system, but few people pay a bit of attention to it.

Local and Social Activities

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Society Editor, Phones 83 and 747

MISS SAUNDERS ENTERTAINS

Miss Winifred Saunders was a charming hostess on Saturday evening at her home north of town, to a group of friends. This delightfully planned social was to have been preceded by a hay ride, but because of inclement weather, that part of the evening's entertainment had to be omitted.

Old fashioned games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. Refreshments of pop corn balls, several kinds of cake, candy and Coca-Cola were served.

Invited guests were Ann Duncan with Leon Geeslin; Carolyn Whitaker with Will Horton; Louise Avert with John Keeton, Jr.; Lillian York with Clyde Horn; Emogene Geeslin with Frank Matthews; the hostess, Winifred Saunders with William Winter and Rogers Pleasants; Margaret Stanley and Brinker Throver and Mary Elizabeth Horton, last three named were unable to attend.

COCOA-COLA PARTY

Mrs. F. R. Lickfold and Mrs. Ben Townes entertained Saturday morning at the charming new home of Mrs. Lickfold, honoring Miss Lillian LeGardier, sister of Mrs. Charles Dickinson. Twelve guests assembled in the lovely dining room which was lighted with colorful autumn flowers, at ten o'clock. During the morning, the two hostesses served sandwiches, canapés, cookies and Coca-Cola.

MISS LE GARDIER AGAIN HONORED

On Friday evening Mrs. Roger Pleasant entertained at dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickinson, their sister, Miss LeGardier, of New Orleans, and Mrs. F. S. Hill.

Parrish Taylor, of Memphis, visited his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Marders on Armistice Day holidays.

Fred Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, and Nolan Houston, nephew of Mr. Tommie Rose, left Saturday for McDill Field Air Corps, Fla. to enter training.

Mrs. Monroe Traylor, of Paducah, Ky., visited her sister in law, Mrs. Warner Horton, the past weekend. She returned home Monday.

Mr. O. L. Bradshaw, of Jackson, accompanied his aunt, Mrs. A. W. George to Grenada Saturday. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Gerard, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mitchell while here.

Mr. Frank Williams, of Coffeeville, is now employed at Fatherree's Drug Store.

Mrs. Ben Brown has returned home after a week spent in Vicksburg with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Houston.

Miss Stella White, of Memphis visited her brother, Mr. Fred White and family the past weekend.

Mrs. Clyde Best, of Soudley, was a business visitor in Grenada recently.

Mrs. Teruile Rose visited in Memphis Thursday of last week.

William Winter, student at Ole Miss, spent the week-end here with his parents, also attended the football game Friday night at Kosciusko.

Mrs. L. M. Tribble and her attractive little daughter, Barbara Dale, of Washington, D. C., spent Sunday and Monday with their sister and aunt, Mrs. Ollie Anthony.

Alma Holland, of Charleston, has lots of friends and relatives in Grenada county who will regret to know that he is very critically ill in a Memphis hospital. Mr. Holland is a brother of Mrs. John James, of Providence, also Mrs. Will Carver, of Holcomb.

Miss Lillian LeGardier, of New Orleans, visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Dickinson and Mr. Dickinson, the past week. She has returned to her home.

Mrs. James Roger Pleasants, Aubrey Thompson and S. H. Garner spent Tuesday in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Finney and members of their family were happy to have their son and brother, George Finney at home the past week-end. He has been attending school in Dayton, Ohio, and will take up his duties at San Diego, Calif., this week. He left Tuesday.

Miss Anna Rose Finney, popular student at Ole Miss, was elected to the "Beauty Section" at Ole Miss last week. Anna Rose spent the past week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Guntharp have just returned from a pleasant trip to New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Strickland, of Lambert are visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. S. McKnight and family.

MRS. CATHEY HOSTESS

Mrs. C. C. Cathey entertained at her charming home Tuesday, honoring members of the Luncheon Bridge Club of which she is a popular member.

Two tables were arranged for the games, and these were draped and ready for the serving of a delicious luncheon when the guests arrived. Mrs. W. K. Kuhne was a non-member guest invited to share Mrs. Cathey's hospitality. Bridge was enjoyed for several hours of the afternoon.

AUXILIARIES

All Saints Episcopal Auxiliary met at the church for Armistice Day prayers at 10 o'clock, Monday. Twenty members were present. Rev. C. S. Liles held the services. On Tuesday a representative group attended the meeting of Northern Convocation of the Diocese of Mississippi, held at the Church of Nativity, Greenwood. Those to attend were, Rev. and Mrs. Liles, Miss Robbie Dook, Mrs. A. W. George, Mrs. E. R. Burkley, Mrs. Satter, Mrs. T. H. Weir, Mrs. J. W. Sherwood, Mrs. Lewis Weir, and Mrs. Whyte Whitaker.

Last week, Miss Sadie McKnight, of Batesville, spent the week-end here in the home of her brother, Mr. L. S. McKnight. On Sunday, November 3, she and Mr. and Mrs. McKnight and children motored to Lexington to greet their twin nephew and cousin, William Allen Ramsey, Jr., son of Sheriff and Mrs. W. A. Ramsey.

Mrs. Gerland Brannon, of Winona, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. E. Perry, this week.

MT. NEBO NEWS

A large crowd from here today attended the dam meeting at Grenada. All here favor the dam.

November 5th was a gala day here as Nelo goes so does the county; and so went the nation this time.

We are grieved to learn that the voters at our old home box, Van's Mill, in Yalobusha county saw fit to vote for Democrat and Socialist electors both and the box was thrown out. We are amazed that Johnson Brewer and Henry Harrison would stand for such.

Ira Harrison just left for Hattiesburg, where he has a good job helping to build a military camp. He has many friends here who wish him well.

Dr. and Mrs. Luther Hill, of Blue Mountain, visited relatives here last week.

Sunday night we had a knockout rain and wind storm. Houses leaked that never did before. Coleman Cohen said he had to open the doors to let the water out.

We have many kind folks here, and one outstanding, who will do kind things, without being asked, his name is Tule Sugg, and his four sons are all cops off the old block.

As we wrote last week, Justice M. O. Gray is more determined than ever to put down devilmint. He says the quality of mercy is not strained but from now on he is going to temper it with justice.

We do hope they build the dam so that we may keep hooks set out at our back door and have catch to help feed our kin folks when they barge in, and then the leaky old bath tub goes to scrap heap to make war material to help make world safe for democracy.

November 11th 22 years ago was one of the happiest days of our life. We have a tender feeling for all the boys and the Legion.

LITTLE TEXAS NEWS

The honor roll for Calvary Consolidated School has been reported as follows:

First grade, Glennis Carroll, Second grade, Lucy Ezell, Wilma Ezell, Luther Hood, Jr., Jesse Carder, J. W. Hancey, and Jenkin Harbin. Sixth grade, Jewell Martin. Tenth grade, Eloise Bates and Doris Beck.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Garner and daughter, Loyote, visited in Water Valley Sunday, where Rev. Garner preached a sermon in a nearby church.

Mrs. W. E. Holliman and son, Bruce, spent several days last week with Mrs. Holliman's sisters in Columbus, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Abel and son, Pernie Dwight, spent last week-end with Mrs. Abel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Alderman.

Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert had a family reunion Sunday, November 10. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Nell and daughter, Helen, and son, Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Jammie Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nell and son, all of Grenada, Mrs. Della Herbert, of Leflore, and Mr. W. E. Holliman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pegg are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of an eight pound boy Sunday night, November 10th.

Mr. J. O. Grantham, who is working at Kosciusko, spent a week-end with his family.

DUCK HILL NEWS

by Mrs. M. S. Walker

Mrs. Dr. Donaldson, of Oakland, was a recent visitor to her friend, Mrs. H. N. McKibben.

Mr. and Mrs. Everette Hollingsworth and sweet little daughter, Patricia, also Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Taylor and daughter, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Campbell.

Mrs. Ralph Moore had the distinguished honor of having her mother, Mrs. W. L. Jones, of Tillatoba visit her during the week. This was Mrs. Jones' first visit to her daughter at Duck Hill, and if Mrs. Moore lives to be a hundred years old she will not have any greater honor bestowed upon her than that of having a visit from her mother. Two sisters, Mrs. James S. McCalisto, of Jackson and Mrs. Bob Anderson, of Grenada, were also guests of Mrs. Moore.

Speaking of mothers we are reminded of a beautiful little poem that was handed us written by Marjorie R. Herman who is attending Delta State College at Cleveland and composed for her mother, Mrs. B. F. Herman. A worth-while poem for every scrap book and so true of every real mother that we asked to publish it in our column.

MOTHER

"Who thinks of you all through the day
Who most always knows when you are away?
The answer is, Mother.

Who asks God to help you and guide you along?
Who daily sings as her work goes on?
It's Mother.

Who sacrifices and works all day long
Who daily sings as her work goes on?
Just, Mother.

Who's always willing to do more than her share?
Who always sees that you have clothes to wear?
It's Mother.

God bless her and keep her and guide her along.
Take my advice and do her no wrong.
Your Mother.

Mrs. E. L. Swanson is visiting her brothers, Mr. J. P. and Mr. D. V. Woodruff in Newelton, Ia.

A photographer down on the street taking pictures, six for a dime, made some for Mr. Charley Campbell, who unconsciously was holding a cigar with a sore finger all tied up right in front of his face. A good resemblance of a yegg that had been shot in a hold up and would look natural in a post office lobby with the word "Wanted" printed above it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Latham have moved to Duck Hill from Memphis and Mrs. Latham, who was Miss Frances Weir before her marriage, says there is no place like Duck Hill to her.

Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Caruthers are back home from California for a while and are making their home with the E. A. Moore family. We all hope they will stay a long time.

Mrs. H. N. McKibben, after spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Godwin, in Water Valley, returned home Sunday evening. Rev. H. N. McKibben was returned to the church here and their many friends are glad they were not moved.

Little Lillian Aldridge is recuperating from a slight attack of diphtheria. She is the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Aldridge and her many friends are rejoicing that she will soon be well again.

In reading the North Mississippi pastors assignments, the Duck Hill people had cause to rejoice over one assignment made in the Greenwood District that read "Isola and Fairview Circuit, Joe Caruthers." We have just cause to be extra proud of this splendid young man and we congratulate him on every step he has made. Just keep on watching him.

We find many things as flies, matches, hairpins, etc. between the pages of the library books, but we found this writing in pencil on the back page of Amorelle, by Grace Livingston Hill, and we do not know who wrote it: "I do not ask to be remembered. Let your memory be at rest. For I had rather be forgotten. Than be remembered by request."

Anyway it's our sentiments to a T.

We rode the bus to Winona Friday, was there about fifteen minutes, then a ride to Grenada and took observation lessons on book binding down at the library. Then up on the streets and thumbed a ride back to Duck Hill with Mrs. Ralph Moore's good looking husband, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Bob Anderson are sisters and we don't believe we would ever learn one from the other. If you see one in Duck Hill that is Mrs. Moore (?). If you see one in Grenada that is Mrs. Anderson (?) or it might be.

Brother Pat, Dollos is still seeking black gold in the bowels of the Oxyrry country. If he finds it, the old lady and I can have all of the Chinese Den painted instead of just the front.

Armistice Day

Today America celebrated Armistice Day for the 22nd time. It was exactly twenty-two years ago today that the guns of the armies in Europe ceased firing, and as the smoke from those final shots drifted slowly across the battlefield, men began to stand up for the first time in four long years and look about them. They gazed out across the scarred terrain at the men on the other side, at the men whom a few minutes before they had sought to kill. Now they were all standing up and this time none were falling. There was no rattle of machine-guns and bursting of bombs as it always had been before when a man stood up. It all seemed very strange to those who had spent the last few years of their lives fighting. All a long the line men were asking, "Is it really over?" Some replied: "No, it's only a truce of the enemy." But it wasn't; the war had ended. Rather hesitatingly men crawled out of shell holes and looked at the lines before the trenches, every man looked at the other.

The men began to speak, from one trench came the coarse guttural sounds of Germans speaking; from another came the sound of French and English. Those men didn't understand what each other were saying, but all knew what the other was thinking. Their thoughts were a common one, To thank God it's over.

SENIORS SPONSOR HOMECOMING

Friday, November 22, has been designated as Home Coming Day of Grenada High School. This event is being sponsored by this year's Senior Class. The Home Coming Game will be with the Charleston Warriors, football champs of '39, who last year downed Grenada 6 to 0 and thus kept Grenada from being champions of the district. We want just as many as possible of the alumnae here for this game. We urge especially, the graduates of recent years to be here. No doubt, many of the class of '39 remember that game in Charleston last year, how Grenada outplayed the Warriors, but on a beautiful run-back of the kick-off in the second half, Charleston scored a touchdown and thus gained the championship. The game this year should be a thoroughly enjoyable one, for in addition to the intense rivalry of the two teams, they are, as a rule, playing an inspired game, fighting all the way, and the loser never concedes defeat until the final whistle.

Seniors and graduates of past years, make it a point to attend this game and help us to have a record-breaking crowd for this final contest of the season, which will likely decide the championship for the district.

Come, Graduates! Help the Bulldogs want.

INTRODUCING OUR LEADERS

We are introducing Katy Carlisle, who hailed here last year from Birmingham, Ala. She has always been a high-ranking student, particularly adept in English and literature. She served last year as Junior representative of the Bulldog and filled her position most excellently. She has a keen sense of humor, and I do mean humor, which is an invaluable aid to her in newspaper work. She is serving this year as co-editor of the Bulldog and is doing more than her part of the work toward producing a good paper. She has a talent for writing and her ambition is to be a great author.

So, all hail Kathleen!
Scholar, author, and lady.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE

Basket ball practice is progressing rapidly under the coaching of Miss Matheson and Mr. Slaton. The veterans of last year, Mary Lou Cullen, Hazel Turner, Mary Moore Juchheim, Margaret Cannon Billy Guy Thomas, Willie Peg, Margaret Spain, Ruth Lee Morrow, Margaret Green, Frances Hale and Jewel Terry are the bases for this year's team. The new girls who show promise for the coming season are Camilla Smith, Bobby Gattis, Margaret Bell, Christine Cockerham, Carolyn Tilghman, and Josephine Baranco.

Going out in boys' basket ball are those outstanding players of last year, Tommy Houston, James Thomas, and K. G. Ross, who will be aided by the new boys, Jimmy Boone, Griffin Thomas, Paul Hill, Max Moore Larry Noble, Bobby Townes, Mellow Marascalco, T. W. Goodwin, Warner Moss, and Leon Provine.

NAVY BAND CONCERT

On Tuesday November 5, a number of band students enjoyed a trip to Greenwood to hear the concert given by the United States Navy Band.

WASTE BASKET

The weather is so rainy that this dirt will probably become mud before long—so here goes the mud-slinging.

Anne Odoin was having a good time Sunday night.

What happened to Nellie Jolier and Fred Hodges?

Mable Thompson and Charlie Baranco seem to be on the "up and up" again.

Let's see if a certain basket ball boy succeeds in his boast about winning the good grace of a certain basket ball girl. Watch out Emmett!

The perfect chauffeur service which two young gentlemen extend to Doris Milner and Sybil Hudson is to be evaded on rainy days like this.

There seems to be a complication in the Martha Johnsey-Fred Murray Ernestine McNulty-Bill Murray affair. Watch it, Mc. Some times even these best friends turn "agin" you.

What about Mickey and Mary Elizabeth? Is it or is it ain't.

Quite a group of Grenada boys have been visiting in Greenwood lately.

So long,

Katy.

NEW FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Belford Thompson has been elected as new football captain since Dale Harper's several injuries have made it impossible for him to continue the splendid work he rendered as captain during the last three years. We are sorry that Dale has been so disabled, but we are every one backing Belford to lead the team on in gaining the "championship" this year.

FAMOUS LINES BY FAMOUS PEOPLE

Words most often heard by:
Tommy Houston—"Speak up, I can't hear you in the dark."
Audrey Moss—"Strictly."
Camilla Smith—"More Fun."
Billy Semmes—"Well—"
Morlie Stevenson—"God."
Betsy Ann Smith—"I don't know."
Brinker Thrower—"Oh! yes!"
John Caldwell—"Yes'm."

Grace Smith—"What did you do in high school?"
Kathleen Carlisle—"What I was in Washington."
Estelle Gattis—"I'd rather not say."
Pauline Richardson—"Me a Billy 'Poot'—"
Katherine Noy—"I listen."

STUDENT PROGRAM

The theme of the assembly program Wednesday was the privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship. After Miss Hamilton led the student body in singing "I Am an American," Mrs. Hittford's public speaking class gave an interesting program. The speakers in the order in which they spoke were: Rogers, Pleasant, Anne Odoin, Thomas Bell, Billy Semmes, John Keaton, Marguerite Stanley, Benton Keaton, Ed McCord, and Everette Wilson. The Rev. C. S. Liles presided at the assembly.

My Column
Whyt Whitaker Jr.

This Armistice Day was very different from all the rest—the former 21st. The war clouds are thick and black. This country faces a grave crisis. A crisis that can be turned into sheer folly, or one that will make this country up and make it a much better one. Since November 11th, 1918 this country has preached the doctrine of non-participation in European wars. It has sworn that it would never shed its blood on some foreign field. You and I and all of us have lived and breathed that theory. Were we right or were we wrong in thinking that we should not get in another European slaughter. At any rate, the American people are swiftly changing their views on the subject. Since I'm not egotistical enough to pose as an authority on the subject and say whether or not this country should enter another entanglement I will leave it up to you to come to your own conclusion on the matter.

On December 10th hunters will start gunning for quail. The bobwhite is becoming more scarce as the years go by, and unless something is done about it they will soon become almost extinct, as they are in some parts of the East. The bird that is loved for its pleasant song has been sadly over-shot during the last few years. Figuratively speaking these birds are yours, hunter—it is your sport. Persevere or destroy it. You, you alone, must make the decision.

A German officer that was shot down over the British Isles was in need of medical attention after the crash. While his wounds were being dressed, he cursed his doctor and nurses. After he had been given a blood transfusion and propped in bed, his nurse chuckled: "Now, my lad, you have two pints of good Jewish blood in you. We hope it will improve your manners."

Joe Neely, Jr., Grenada's Antioch salesman deluxe, has invited a batch of his hard legs down to "Tindie" club house, on six-mile lake, for a big "stax". I'm anticipating a jolly good time, for there will probably be quite a few merry fellows.

The Kosciusko football team defeated the Grenada boys 12 to 0 in a hard fought battle Friday night. Some of the Grenada fans think the boys got a few dirty deals. Said that the school had some crooked officials. As far as we know (it is pretty hard to see everything from the sidelines) they might have been dishonest. However, we are quite certain of one thing, that it was not the fault of the school, for 50 times out of a 100 if a man is big enough to be a school superintendent he is likewise big enough not to intentionally hire unfair officials. Oh, me, I'm glad that's off of my chest.

"Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of his country." This party business is something of the past.

Frank Romberger was taking a physical examination for federal disability compensation. The examining doctor told him to turn his head to the right and so he immediately did. The physician said, "you heard that didn't you?" "Hell no," he replied. Then "Frank thought a minute and said, 'the devil, lets start all over'."

Dear "Boby" Finney: Was sorry that I found it impossible to come up to the Phi Mu dance the other night. It was swell of you to ask me, anyway and I appreciate it.

Related congratulations to Harry Greenfield and others that made the Armistice Day parade such a successful one.

By the way, the American Legion is intending to give a big dance for the National Guardsmen. We understand it will come off some time after the outfit mobilizes, a night prior to the 25th of this month. Post 35 of the American Legion, which is Grenada's Post, is figuratively bubbling over fine men. This bunch of men has, and will continue until they exist no more, to be a great community asset. They are kind, considerate and are ever ready to lend a helpful hand when the occasion arises.

I spent the week-end with the McRees at our neighboring metropolis, Holcomb. Went to see the oil well near our farm, duck hunting and several other things that my heart has longed to do for the past few weeks.

Twenty-two years and three days ago the most fearful holocaust of modern times came to its termination. Scenes of carnage, sacrifice and disaster were again clothed in the vestments of peace.

There came into being the glorious prospects of international amity, the

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Of interest to all Grenadians, both here and those now residing in other towns and states, was the celebration, on Friday, Nov. 8, of the 93rd birthday of Mr. William Dubard, one of the three surviving Confederate soldiers in Grenada.

On this occasion, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Vassar Dubard and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dubard were hosts at a beautiful dinner party served at the Barwin Hotel. Chrysanthemums carried out a yellow and white motif in decorations. The huge white cake held 93 tiny gold colored candles and a surprise feature in the cake, a tiny music box which played, as the cake was being served. A four course dinner was served and places were arranged for 15 guests; his children with their husband or wife and two nieces, children of his brother, who now reside in Memphis, were present.

Those privileged to enjoy this occasion were Mr. Dubard, his daughter, Mrs. B. J. Anderson and Mr. Anderson, of Grenada; Mrs. Ward Allen and Mrs. C. L. Lomax, of Greenwood; Mrs. R. L. Hinds and Mr. Hinds, of Tupelo; Mr. and Mrs. Vassar Dubard and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dubard, of Dubard, Miss.

We congratulate Mr. Dubard upon attaining four score and three years, and his ability to be active and interested in all affairs of this ever changing world. May he have many more happy birthday parties with his loved-ones about him.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB MEETING

On Tuesday, Nov. 5, the Fortnightly Club met at the home of Mrs. C. A. McKell on Snider Street.

Following the roll call, to which members responded by naming their favorite negro song, Mrs. Roger Ruff read a paper on "The present South and the negro."

Mrs. E. R. Pleasant gave a "History of Slavery," and Mrs. J. D. Quinn delighted the members by reading the interesting negro story "Marse Chan."

After the minutes were approved, two members, Mesdames Max McCormick and Roger Dollarhide requested and were granted each a year's absence from the club.

Ways and Means of making money to help on the milk fund were discussed. Children being fed at lunch room, and needing milk, are being aided by this group of splendid young women. Remember this when you shop, drop a coin in the milk fund bottle on the checker's desk.

FORTNIGHTLY DINNER DANCE

One of the largest social events of the fall was the dinner-dance Thursday evening of last week given by members of the Fortnightly Club at Hotel Barwin.

Chrysanthemums and daisies carried out a colorful motif in decorations. The tables were covered with a lustrous of chrysanthemums and trailing ivy.

Places were laid for thirty-five guests. The turkey dinner, in four courses, was beautifully served. Afterwards dancing was enjoyed.

The chairman of the dinner dance, was Mrs. Bert Bays and she, with the following, were hostess for the evening: Mesdames David Dubard, G. L. Johnson, Ben Townes, and Byron Hunter.

Mr. Heck Lane and Miss Cora Mulken, Mr. Chick Lockett and Miss Margaret Finney attended a Phi-Mu dance at Ole Miss last Thursday. They were guests of Miss Anna Rose Finney.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Provine, of Tulsa, Okla., and Mr. L. F. Provine, of Greenville, spent part of the past week with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Provine.

Misses Annie Katherine Allen, Roberta Allen and Louise Harris, of Greenwood, were guests Tuesday of Miss Annie Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Anderson.

hope for universal brotherhood among men of all nations and creeds that had long been envisioned by the leaders and guardians of humanity.

A year or so ago the National Guards were called all sorts of insulting names such as "Nasty Guards" and "The Bulligan Army." Maybe they were just called those names, maybe not. But if they were "Bulligans" and "Nasty Guards" they still are the personnel is about the same—very little change. Lo and behold I "ain't" heard "stitch" names called this organization in quite a while—especially since Hitler's victorious march through France. What brought about this change? We will give you three guesses but haven't time to listen to but one!

AUXILIARY, METHODIST

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the homes of members Monday afternoon.

Circle No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. Spivey Kent with a splendid attendance. Mrs. A. W. Stokes was the leader of the program planned. Circle No. 4 met at the home of Mrs. Herman Heath. After a short business session, Mrs. Owen gave the devotional. The lesson from the study book, "Migrant Americans" was given by Mrs. Joe Thomas. The members enjoyed a social hour at which Mrs. Heath served a delicious salad plate.

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. Chard Rankin, at the home of Mrs. Hunt, Monday afternoon. Thirteen members and two visitors were present.

The lesson was taught by Mrs. R. H. Herring.

During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On Friday evening, Nov. 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Walker entertained at their lovely new home, honoring their father, Mr. J. E. Bailey on his 54th birthday. Seventeen guests assembled at the home at eight o'clock in the evening.

Four tables were arranged for card games, and later refreshments of delicious ice cream and birthday cake were served.

The home was attractively arranged and numerous bowls of flowers added their beauty to this joyous occasion.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. S. H. Horton was a most gracious hostess to members of the Tuesday Bridge Club this week.

Three tables were arranged for the games in the living room. Lovely autumn flowers were placed at points of vantage, lending their beauty to the scene.

In the late afternoon, delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Garner spent Tuesday in Memphis visiting their mother, Mrs. Mary Leigh, and other relatives.

Mrs. Ida Campbell and her daughter, Mrs. David J. White spent last week in St. Louis, Mo., with their sons and brothers, Mr. S. B. Campbell and Mr. George Campbell and families. They returned home Saturday. Mrs. White plans to leave for her home in Greensboro, N. C. on Friday of this week.

HOLCOMB NEWS

The prayer meeting services at the Methodist Church last Wednesday night was conducted by Mrs. H. K. McMahon and Miss Elizabeth Perkins in the absence of Rev. A. W. Bailey, who was away attending annual conference at Columbus. There were twenty-one present. The 27th and 28th chapters of Genesis were very interestingly discussed.

The ball team went to Payne Wednesday afternoon and played both teams there. The Holcomb team boys and girls were winners.

The Holcomb "Knitting" class met at Mrs. L. T. Hayden's Thursday afternoon with 16 members present. Mrs. Sidney Rice is the capable instructor. After an hour or two of "chin music" and the rattling of knitting needles, Mrs. Hyden, assisted by Mrs. Wade Rice served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Jack Lawrence's home.

Mrs. Warren Holman, the elected delegate from the Holcomb circuit and Mrs. J. A. Rice left last Wednesday with Rev. A. W. Bailey to attend the annual conference. They were entertained in the home of Mrs. Sidney Rice's sister while there.

Rev. A. W. Bailey was returned to the Holcomb circuit for another year this being his third year.

Rev. A. W. Bailey and Betty Ann spent Saturday night in Grenada with Mrs. T. B. Throver and accompanied her and Tinsley to the conference Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. McMahon and Mr. and Mrs. Grace Carver had the pleasure of attending the annual conference Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates Curry entertained the "new minister" and family and the McMahrens with a delicious three course dinner on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. R. D. Williams, from Lake Providence, spent Sunday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Holcomb.

The ball team went to Duck Hill on Tuesday of this week and played the teams of "Blindfold High" winning both games.

The drilling for oil on Mr. E. D. Holcomb's place near Orberry is reported as being a good prospect. They are passed 2300 feet at this time.

MESDAMES SMITH AND MCEACHIN ANNOUNCE MSCW PROGRAM

Mrs. Cecil Smith who is the Chairman, and Mrs. John McEachin who is the Secretary of the MSCW group in Grenada, announce that the alumnae of MSCW who attend the Homecoming at their alma mater on November 17th, will be made to feel that they are really at home, even to going back to classes. The only difference will be that they will not have to know their lessons.

Inaugurated this year, the plan of allowing former students to visit their favorite teachers or classes during the celebration is expected to prove popular with alumnae. How uncomfortable undergraduates will be in the presence of their elders is another question.

A full program of entertainment and serious business has been planned for the annual homecoming Junior-Freshman Wedding and a revue by Miss Emma. Only Pohl's special dancing class, both cherished by all alumnae, have been scheduled for the week-end. Under the direction of Miss Pohl, head of the physical education department, both of these events are elaborately staged, and are among the most important student productions of each year.

The executive board, of which Mrs. Grant Jones of Marks is president, will meet Friday evening, with a dinner following as the first event of homecoming. On Saturday afternoon there will be an open forum on "How Alumnae chapters can best serve MSCW" with all former students invited to be present.

Outstanding affairs of the week-end will include the annual luncheon at which the college is host to former students returning for homecoming, an "at home" by President B. L. Parkinson and Mrs. Parkinson, another by the executive board for all returning alumnae, and a reunion supper for the class of 1940.

Reservations for rooms in the college dormitories, the Alumnae luncheon, and tickets to the wedding and dance program, all complimentary to former students, are being made with the alumnae office, of which Miss Helen Perry, executive secretary, is in charge.

These longuns feel pretty scrumptious these cold crisp mornings.

Every country merchant would benefit from the Food Stamp Plan. It is no scheme exclusively for the benefit of the town merchants at all.

Kirk has bought the old White House on College Avenue from Alex Paterson. This may be a bit stale, but maybe others like myself, did not know it.

Which is better: $40,000 in cash money per month, or $40,000 worth of "commodities"? The answer is easy.

Dr. Cecil Smith has bought the home of Charles Ransom on Snider Street. Doc says he is going to be here a good while.

The Pates have bought the home of Miss Lida Coffman, and have sold their old Barnes property to James Russell Lockett, who will improve it.

Things are still booming in and about Grenada. Carpenters and painters all are busy most of the time. Thus Grenada Grows.

From tales told about the liberties allowed the noted criminal, Kinnie Wagne, life at Parchman must be grand indeed.

Our nomination for the most handsome store sign in Grenada: that of our neighbors, Hector & Horton.

Nobody killed on 51 Saturday night, fortunately.

No county which ever started the Food Stamp Plan ever abandoned it, tho it can be abandoned at any time upon thirty days' notice from the county officials. That must mean something.

Sanford is sort of like the old negro said about Ed Peacock: "If he owes you anything he sho pay you, but if he gin you anything you sho preshate it."

Sometimes, folks sell things prematurely, for instance, baby buggies.

Even money on Britain.

Brother Perry may have to do like about 3-4 in the city limits is having a fine getting sewer connections. It costs too much, they say, to connect him up, and the WPA will not build him a sanitary toilet, as he is in reach of a sewer line. He is sort of like irresistible force meeting immovable matter, the problem physicists worry with.

By their fruits you know them. The Lowrey family of Blue Mountain not only has produced fine men and women within its own blood lines, but it has produced hundreds of fine women who attended school there and were subject to the fine influence of the Lowreys.

ON THE PASSING OF

H. K. BARWICK

"His youth was innocent; his ripper age,

Marked with some act of goodness, every day;

And watched by eyes that loved him, calm, and sage,

Fader his late declining years away. Cheerful he gave his being up, and went

To share the holy rest that waits a life well spent."

Successful business man, ideal citizen, exemplary churchman and class member, devoted husband and father. His life will remain a priceless heritage to his family, to his friends, and to the Bible Class of which for many years he was a faithful and loyal member.

Therefore, Be It Resolved: That the Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church School in the death of H. K. Barwick has suffered the loss of a member whose presence was always an inspiration and whose absence was disappointment.

Be It Resolved Further: That the Men's Bible Class deeply sympathize and condole with the members of the Barwick home, fully recognizing that we have suffered the mutual loss of one who was the impersonation of "Christianity and the embodiment of civic virtue—a man true to every responsibility and humble in the discharge of every duty.

Be It Resolved Further: That the gentle, gracious, humble manner and spirit of our brother has contributed as an unseen force to the better life of the individual members of our group.

Be It Resolved Finally: That these resolutions be inscribed on the minutes of our class; that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased and another copy be given to the local press.
